VOL. 102, NO. 29 CAMERON, MILAM COUNTY TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER, 12, 1961 10 PAGES TODAY

This Is 102

By FML

Have you observed, or more fortunately, overheard a conversation between two year - wizened elderly people.

The most interesting thing about such a conversation is not so much what is said as what is not said.

Long experience teaches them an intuitive understanding of the intricacies of a problem. They go right to the point.

If their meeting is of a more casual nature, the ease with which they discuss events of mutual experience is a delight to behold.

It is a long time in coming, this understanding, more often called wiseness. It comes with long, hard experience.

102 - 102 - 102

Antwone Domino, a name of some familiarity to the hep set was in town last week. He is more commonly known as Fats Domino, the rock 'n roll pianist, sometime singer ..... that is, if you consider it possible to sing rock 'n roll.

It is exceedingly difficult for anyone to feel any concern over the apparent death of rock n' roll. And the beatniks of a year or so past are finally identified for what they are ..... a bunch of deadbeats whose escape from life became the new conformity pattern of recent years.

Ol' Fats Domino has done pretty well on his records and personal appearance. But as his bankroll went up, the pop music industry went down.

Attitudes are changing about the teaching of communism in public schools. It is curious that we have to mellow to some sort of mishmash of half - patriotism before we realize that we have coddled ourselves to sleep.

Finally, some sort of appraisal of communism's goals and ambitions is forthcoming in public schools. Communism had to come of age before we would allow it. Had we learned of this sinister system 25 years ago, had we been warned as we were about facism, there would be fewer concessions in Europe, Asia and The Western Hemisphere now.

We hope the instruction is realistic, balanced and in time. A lot of progressive, "seek - your - own-level" education has produced part of our problem.

Herald To Cite Newspaper Week

The Herald pauses to cite National newspaper week October 15 - 21, an annual observance.

This Milam County newspaper, in its 102rd year, invites readers, advertisers, school children and everyone to visit The Herald or some newspaper during the next week.

In a day of electronic magic, of television wonder, of minute-by - minute reports, the newspaper still carries the basic responsibility of reporting the news.

The printed word keeps its authority.

Is it any wonder why? Turn the pages of the Herald. You find tens of thousands of facts each issue: Who was born; who died; what the Council, the School Board, the Courts did; who visited; who bowled or golfed the best game. And many others.

And you save. Herald ads are the marketplace of Milam County, saving you many times the cost of a subscription.

A newspaper does even more. It is about the only medium that gives cause to ponder the course of a community to bring together the viewpoints of thousands of people and attempt to reflect and interpret the pattern of complex life in the 1960's.

All this the newspaper undertakes, all the while seeking to be a stabilizing factor in a world caught afire with speed and indecision and change.

National Newspaper Week is another week, one of 52. The Herald is another newspaper, one of 9,000 weeklies and 1,200 dailies in the U. S. Only 20 years ago, there were 10,000 weeklies and 1,500 dailies.

The movement of modern times takes its toll. Perhaps that is reason enough to have a Newspaper Week. Perhaps that is reason enough to visit The Herald or some newspaper next week and find out a little bit more about the printed word.

You are invited to visit The Herald next week, October 15-22.

Drive Kaput!

No '61 NM Fund

The North Milam United Fund will not conduct a drive this fall, according to officials of the Fund Board.

Officials said that the Board was unable to locate anyone who would take responsibility for the North Milam Fund drive this year.

The seven participating organizations were to be advised that they would be able to conduct their own drives in the Cameron area this year.

Officials said that a complete reorganization program will be held this winter for a new drive next year.

The United Fund effort in North Milam County has encountered difficulty in reaching its goal in the past five years.

Last year's goal was $11,500. Contributions and pledges totaled $5,998.53 through October 1.

Pledges made last fall will continue to be billed quarterly or monthly through this year since the 1960 pledge was for the year 1961.

Participating agencies are: Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Area Charities, Cameron Library, Texas United Fund. Administrative expenses also were paid from contributions.

Newton Hospital Nears Completion

The new Newton Memorial Hospital, under construction for almost a year, is rapidly nearing completion, and workmen this week were engaged in finishing details of the interior of the building.

Floors were laid in the structure several weeks ago and the installation of the ceiling also was completed recently.

The construction crew this week was busy painting door and window facings and the surfaces, installing electrical fixtures and one or two pieces of equipment, including a dishwasher in the hospital kitchen.

Located on a site just north of the present hospital, the new building is one - story, of masonry and brick construction, and is ultra-modern in design.

It is in the form of a cross; three of its wings are occupied by wards and private rooms for patients, and in the other are the operating rooms, receiving rooms, offices and quarters for the hospital staff.

It will be completely air conditioned.

Cost of the new building is placed at about $295,000 but when completely equipped, the hospital plant is estimated to reach a figure of well over $400,000.

None of the equipment has yet been installed and is awaiting completion of the building.

Martin B. Semands, Inc., of Conroe, is the contractor for the hospital building.

Lack Of Leaders Will Force Girl Scouts To Disband

The executive board of the Cameron Girl Scout Association announced this week that Girl Scouts in Cameron would be discontinued due to a lack of volunteer adult leaders for Girl Scout and Brownie troops.

Mrs. Lester Williams, girl scout camp director, said that more than 100 Cameron area girls had expressed an interest in the Girl Scout program, but attempts to find volunteer leaders were unsuccessful. Only 3 troops were able to secure leaders.

She added that the decision to discontinue Girl Scouts was based on the fact that $1200 must be sent to girl scout area council in Austin to provide training for local volunteers to become qualified leaders and for literature necessary to the Girl Scout program, and that this large amount taken from the United Fund was unwarranted if so few girls were able to participate in the program.

The executive board stated that if at any time sufficient interest is shown by adult volunteers in Cameron, troops will be organized and local scouts could re - affiliate with the area office in Austin.

They added that adult volunteers would be trained by a professional worker from Austin with sessions during the year on all phases of Girl Scouting.

GOVERNOR GETS MAJOR PROJECT FOR APPROVAL

A U. S. Study Commission Monday turned over to Gov. Price Daniel a $3 - billion plan for developing the water resources of Texas, including Laneport Reservoir just west of San Gabriel.

The Laneport project, long a key dam project recommended by the Brazos River Authority, was among nine priority projects recommended for construction by 1975.

The Commission's report, unparalleled in Texas water resource development history, urged a gigantic 50 - year program to develop 62 percent of Texas' water resources.

The announcement came earlier this week in the Waco News-Tribune.

BRAZOS BIGGEST

A former president of the Brazos River Authority, J. H. Kulzen, now a member of the U. S. Study Commission, was quoted by the Waco newspaper, saying that the report demonstrates that the Brazos watershed is not only the largest of the six basins covered by the water study but is "the heart of the Texas water supply problem."

The study covered the eight major river basins within the state in their entirety: the Neches, Trinity, San Jacinto, Brazos, Colorado, Guadalupe, San Antonio and the Nueces.

The Laneport project, in the surveying and planning stages for years, was listed among nine priority Brazos River projects. They are: Seymour, Millers Creek, Keechi Creek, Stillhouse Hollow, North San Gabriel, Somerville, Millican and Wayland Crossing.

TRANSPORT PROJECT

The Laneport project is planned to have 212,800 acre feet of conservation storage, 116,500 acre feet flood control, 329,000 acre feet total capacity.

It would cost $24,470,000, including interest on bonds.

The North San Gabriel project, expected to be a $20 - million project, was recommended after a meeting of interested parties in Georgtown three years ago about the prospects of using the Laneport site. Engineers agreed to resurvey both areas.

Laneport is actually in Bell County, but only about eight miles west of San Gabriel, the nearest Milam County community.

The Stillhouse Hollow dam is already in advanced stages of planning, officials point out. Federal appropriations have already been made to extend surveying and planning operations.

Construction of the proposed dams would give Central Texas nine reservoirs and six major power dams capable of storing 6,891,800 acre feet of water and 1,919,000 acre feet of water primarily for hydroelectric power.

Taylor Edges Yoemen,15-14

Cameron's Fighting Yoemen met with defeat for the first time in six gridiron contests last Friday night at Yoe High Stadium. The Taylor Ducks handed Billy Bate's crew a heart - breaking 15 - 14 loss.

The Yoemen bowed to a strong Taylor line and the running of halfback Roger Youngblood in the first half. Youngblood scored two touchdowns; the Yoemen were nile in their scoring attempts.

A high spirited second half Yoemen team almost made up the difference on a 60 yard TD run by Criag Wallace and a 30 yard pass completion that went from Ernie Bayer to Thomas Leonard, leaving the Yoe still one point short of the most spectacular comeback seen in years at Yoe High Stadium.

A near - capacity crowd sat in silence through the first half; came to life when Cameron scored twice and drove to the Taylor 11 yardline in the final period's closing seconds; then left the stands in a state of "almost" atmosphere when a mighty Taylor defence held the Yoemen and the offensive squad ran out the remaining minute while deep in their own territory.

Roger Youngblood, a previously unheralded halfback, accounted for 13 of the Duck's 15 points.

He dove over from the two yardline in the first quarter and ran over for the extra points. In the last seconds of the second quarter he raced 15 yards around left end for another 6 points. Charles Patterson plunged up the middle for two extra points.

Eugene Schattle and Bobby Jones led a stubborn Cameron defence in the second half. Bobby Hillman, Stanley Kirk, Johnny Krenek and Dan Brashear added almost enough extra pep for the badly needed tallies.

Rito Hernandez was the powerhouse of the Duck's rushing defence.

The Yoemen called on 151 pound sophomore Craig Wallace late in the third quarter for a possible "long shot." Wallace raced 60 yards up his right side of the field for six points. Doskocil was stopped short in his extra point attempt.

Seconds later, in the final frame Ernie Bayer dropped back and heaved a pass into the waiting hands of Thomas Leonard; he raced the remaining distance to paydirt.

Bayer threw a bullet- pass to Jimmy Woodum on his left side for the extra points.

FIRST QUARTER

Cameron kicked to Taylor. The Ducks carrying to their own 44 yardline. Patterson and Youngblood were both stopped at the line of scrimmage. Quarterback Kelly Marek punted to the Cameron 21 yardline.

Ernie Bayer picked up 4 yards; Wallace got 3; Bayer 1 and James Anderle chose to punt, to the Taya TD

The Ducks carried twice and missed with a pass before Marek booted 35 yards. A Cameron fumble on the punt return gave the Ducks possession on the Cameron 14 yardline, setting the scene for aTD.

Youngblood garnered for 4 and 6 yards. A 5 yard penalty was stepped off against the Ducks. Jimmy Kincel got 3 and Youngblood 4. Youngblood plunged off right tackle from the two yardine, for points. His kick gave the Ducks 7-0 lead.

Cameron carried the kickoff to their own 32 yardline. Anderle booted a 52 yarder to the Taylor 16 yardline. The Ducks ran into a brick wall before Patterson quick - kicked to the Yoe 35 for the second quarter's first play.

The Yoemen went limp and Anderle booted to the Taylor 35. Patterson carried 23 yards on the first play from scrimmage. A Duck fumble, recovered by Cameron captain, Johnny Krenek, gave Cameron the ball. Running out of gas in three plays, Anderle booted 27 yards.

Youngblood, Marek, Patterson, and Kincl combined the ball carrying for the next 18 plays; making 5 first downs before scoring from 15 yards out.

Cameron fumbled the kickoff ran over the two extra points.

play but the clock ran out before the Ducks could make any real headway.

THIRD QUARTER

Cameron received the third period's opening kickoff and took control from their own 33 yardline of scrimmage.

Bayer picked up 8 and 7. Doskocil pounded for 5; Bayer got 3 and 5. Two penalties for 15 yards against each team and short spurts by Bayer and Doskocil placed the pigskin on the Cameron 47 and 17 yards for a first down in a fourth down situation. A running play was called and Doskocil went for 13 yards, 4 short of a first. The Ducks regained control on their own 40.

The Yoemen held the Ducks to the ground and were forced to punt. Marek booted 28 yards out. Cameron taking control on their own 12 yardline.

Bayer picked up a yard, Doskocil 7, Bayer 7, Doskocil 10, Bayer 1 and Doskocil 1. Wallace tried his hand with the pigskin and raced headlong into Duck defenders up the right side of the field for 60 yards and 6 points. Doskocil was stopped in his extra point attempt.

FOURTH QUARTER

Senior end, Dan Brashear, recovered the opening kickoff for Cameron and the Yoemen took over on the Taylor 34.

Bayer got 4 and 2. Wallace lost 3. Bayer dropped back and tossed to Thomas Leonard who pranced the remaining yards for the touchdown. Victory was within sight but the glasses were dirty. Bayer passed to Woodum for the extra points, making it Taylor 15, Cameron 14.

Taylor failed in ball carrying attempts and booted 31 yards to the Cameron 40. Anderle booted on his 47. Taylor took control but lost the ball on downs to the Yoemen.

The Yoemen took over within 36 yards of victory. Bayer missed pass; and hit Craig Wallace for an 18 yarder. Bayer got 3 and Doskocil 4. A rushing Duck line threw Woodum for a 4 yard loss. Cameron missed another pass and the jig was up.

Taylor ran out the clock on three plays ending the game.

19AA Teams End Non - District Play Friday Night

All 19AA football teams wrapped up non - district play last week with two of the five teams posting winning scores.

The Hearne Eagles won their sixth straight by handing the Madisonville Mustangs a 48 - 0 shellacking. Caldwell's Hornets outtallied the Rogers Eagles 26-8 in Caldwell.

In other non - district tilts: Cameron lost to Taylor for the seventh straight year; this time by a scrappy 15-14 score. Mighty Bellville dropped the flash-in-the pan Rockdale Tigers, 26-7. And Huntsville held A & M Consolidated scoreless while they tallied 28 points.

Non District Standings:

Cameron	4	1	1
Rockdale	2	4	0
Caldwell	2	4	0
A & M Consolidated	2	4	0

HEARNE 48, MADISONVILLE 0

Hearne's ace quarterback, Simon Martinez, completed three touchdown passes and trotted twenty - five yards for another TD in the Eagles' 48 - 0 win over Madisonville.

Martinez passed to end Tommy Dotson for 35 and 50 yard TD pass plays. He threw twenty - five yards to Butch Reed for another six points.

Danny Pursley covered a kickoff in the end zone for the final Eagle score. O. B. Fowler scored prior to that on a 45 yard run. James Crowder scored on a 30 yard run.

CALDWELL 26, ROGERS 8

The Caldwell Hornets played heads - up football in order to derail the Rogers Eagles and their roving backfield, 26-8.

A Hornet intercepted an Eagle pass in the first quarter setting the scene for a two yard plunge by Jim Ed Davis that brought in Caldwell's first six points.

Another pass interception, with just thirty - five second reaming in the first half, by Roy Kuchera carried the Hornets to the Eagle one - yard line. Fullback Billy Harper carried over and Frank Horak racked in another two points with a conversion run.

Harold Satterwhite, Eagle quarterback, tossed to Horak for 59 yards and the Eagle third touchdown. Davis ran 65 yards for the final Hornet score.

Rogers tallied on a two yard plunge by Jimmy Cowan. Brien Harbour ran over the two extra points.

BELLVILLE 26, ROCKDALE 7

The up - and - down luck of the the Rockdale Tigers continued throught Friday night's game as they lost to the Brahmas, 26 - 7.

Quarterback Ronnie Menn was the only bright spot for Rockdalians. He scored from one yard out late in the first quarter and added one point on a kick.

HUNTSVILLE 28, A & M CONSOLIDATED 0

A weak Consolidated line and a strong rushing Hunstville Hornet defence caused the downfall of A & M Consolidated last week.

The Hornets scored once on a blocked punt and again when rushers took the ball out of a would-be - passer.

TAYLOR 15, CAMERON 14

The local Yoemen played a tragedy in three parts Friday in their 15 - 14 loss to the Taylor Ducks.

An untidy and dragging Yoemen first half allowed Taylor to score 15 points, one too many as far as the Yoemen were concerned.

Despite second half rallies in which Craig Wallace raced 60 yards for a score and Thomas Leonard caught a 30 yard pass from Ernie Bayer for another six, the Yoe lost out under pressure for the first time this year.

Mrs. McDermott Hosts DAR Chapter

The Sara McCalla Chapter, Daughters of the American Revoluation met Thursday, October 5, in the home of Mrs. G. A. McDermott.

Following the Pledge of Allegiance and reading the Ritual, Mrs. McDermott gave a short talk on the purpose and authority of the U. S. Disarmament Agency.

Mrs. Graham Gillis had as her topic for the afternoon, "God given rights -- their necessary obligations." In keeping with this subject she covered the general thought that rights which we have, when denied to others, cease to be rights.

At the conclusion of the program the hostess served refreshments. She was assisted by Mrs. J. F. McCrory.

We CAN Build Streets And, We CAN Sustain A Library

The City of Cameron, in its last four budgets, has shown admirable management in carrying forward a general fund balance of good proportions.

WE QUOTE:

Budget Year	Gen. Fund Balance
1958-59	$39,845.41
1959-60	41,301.67
1960-61	26,456.56
1961-62	30,997.31

This is proof of good city management: Pay as you go. No deficit spending.

But wait! What about the chuck holes in the streets? What about the library program which draws criticism for fear of lack of operating funds after a library is built.

The City Fathers have allocated funds for streets in the budgets too and and funds averaging about $9,600 for special projects such as paving, sewer improvements, etal.

But glimpse the City's allowance for street construction out of a general fund budget averaging $143,000 in the last four years:

1958-59	None
1959-60	$7,571.69
1960-61	2,943.65
1961-62	2,220.84

It seems a matter of appropriating funds that have obviously been or are going to be accumulating a little interest, but very little influence on two pressing problems -- streets and a public library.

Think what part of $34,000 (average of the general fund surplusses could do toward:

ONE -- Paving the city's one-third share or more of streets along with matching funds from residents.

TWO -- Assurance of operating funds for a library that will one day be built.

Here is a reason there is prospect for using some of the surpluses carried forward each year: The margin of net obligations during the interim between the date when the budget is approved and when new taxes are paid is historically ample.

For Instance:

Budget Year	Year Balance	Net Obligation (Interim Period)
1958-59	$39,845.41	$11,400
1959-60	41,301.67	21,900
1960-61	26,456.56	14,900
1961-62	30,997.31	15,300

The least amount of cushion in the General fund was in the 1960-61 budget with $12,000 extra for contingency which probably is covered by legal requirements for a minimum contingency on every budget. The point is Cameron has the money to do, without fear of deficit, what should be done. Without tax increases, without robbing contingencies, without threatening sound economic budgeting which the city follows.

It just requires more confidence in doing what has been begun and what everyone agrees is needed.

So Cameron can, if it will, build more streets and sustain a public library just by using funds it is currently carrying forward year after year for "safety reasons."

These are not our figures, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron. They are yours.

We Must Move Ahead . . .

The editorial ahead of this one urges one thing to Cameron: "We must move ahead!"

We can pay lipservice to progress and we can pay homage to a big bank balance either public or private. But we cannot drive on streets that are dangerous as well as unsightly. We need not do without things such as a modern library just because we have done without them before.

Cameron and Milam County residents have a basic ability to save. Look at our bank balances: $12.16 millions in one bank, $4.54 millions in the other.

There is more to good business than saving. There is also a time to spend. And we think that time has come for instance on Cameron's streets.

We can look back on long experience as a solvent entity. But what good is solvency when it hangs like an anchor on an area that needs to climb out of the water, learn to swim and dive back in again.

We can remember the Depression of the early 1930's. And we can remember the hard days of doing without to get by. But when the wherewithall is available, as it is in the 1960's, we see no need for searching our memories for 30 years back to harbor fear where confidence is needed. Cameron and the rest of the U. S. have been through two depressions in the past four years and it is still here.

The Herald can look back 102, almost 103 years. If it were a living person, it would be equipped to be as realistic as anyone would require. And in urging public action on such projects as streets, now, The Herald draws upon on all the realism that it can muster as a newspaper or a person.

Like everyone else, we use experience to look ahead. And, of course, there is a choice in looking back. We can use experience to hide behind, for fear it will happen again. Or we can use experience to learn from, and avoid the same mistakes.

And in looking back, we think that remembering those depression years so long has been a mistake.

It is quite possible that we relish those hard, lean years because they were a challenge demanding the best in us. Our response was knowing how to get by.

But the challenge is not the same. The challenge is to grow. And if growth is not to be by some Big Brother intervention, then we must liberalize our local attitudes and grow.

For as sure as we fail to move ahead, the growth that we hope for by chance will certainly go to that community which pushes as far as it can.

Caldwell, the small town of 2,300 people, has raised $100,000 for an Industrial Fund. We don't know how they did it, but they did it.

They have said the same thing about Cameron's building front program.

Cameron got more favorable publicity in that project than even our Western Week gained. They wanted to know how we did it.

But this was last year. And last year, like yesterday's daily newspaper or last night's TV show, is history, but incidental to the history of now.

And now is where we are. That is why we say: "We must move ahead!"

Girl Scouts Need Volunteers . . .

The Girl Scout program in Cameron is in jeopardy.

The reason: Volunteer leaders for Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts troops are not available, officials report.

Officials point out that volunteer leaders must be qualified leaders trained by professionals during the Scout year.

The Girl Scout program is a participating agency in the United Fund. The current quota is $1,200 paid to the Scout Council in Austin.

The officials' position here is that if the Cameron community is going to spend $1,200, it should have leadership to help the some 100 girls of Scout age and interest in Cameron.

But if the leadership is not forthcoming, the whole program goes under.

We urge those ladies who have time, fewer children of their own and the inclination to offer their services for a worthy project.

Cameron is fortunate in having an active Boy, Explorer and Cub Scout program. It likewise can have a Girl Scout program of equal caliber.

Give these youngsters your help, won't you?

Members Named To Committee

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Three members of the House of Representatives and two state senators were named by Sen. Bruce A. Reagan of Corpus Christi as a Subject Matter Committee to determine which of 25 suggested interim studies shall be made by the Texas Legislative Council.

Reagan is President pro - tem of the Senate and presided at the first meeting of the new Legislative Council. He and Sen. James A. Turman, Speaker of the House of Representatives, are ex - officio members of the Subject Matter Committee. Turman is chairman; Reagan vice chairman.

Designated membership on the committee were Senators Preston Smith of Lubbock and George Moffett of Chillicothe. House members appointed were Representatives C. W. Pearcy of Temple; Sam Collins of Newton; and Alonzo Jamison of Denton.

During the three 1961 sessions of the Legislature, 25 resolutions were passed, calling for special studies by the council. Of these 25, twelve were concurrent resolutions approved by both House and Senate. The remaining 13 originated in the House.

Among the 25 topics under consideration for special study were:

Coordination of Health and Welfare Services of the State.

Space Utilization by Institutions of Higher Education.

Non - constitutional Duties of the Attorney General.

Opinion Authority of the Attorney General.

FM ROAD BUILDING PLAN

State Highway Chairman Herbert Petry Jr. of Carrizo Springs completed one major assignment for Gov. Price Daniel, but has a tougher one ahead.

Petry and Daniel worked out agreement with the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association under which the farm - to-market road building program will be modified, along lines long advocated by the Texas Good Roads Association and the Highway Commission.

But now the plan has to be sold to the powerful Texas Farm Bureau at its convention in Galveston November 13 - 15.

Governor Daniel vetoed the $15-000,000 appropriation for farm - to-market road construction from general revenue for the year starting next September 1, saying it was time to settle the question of rural road maintenance. He got together a committee of road - minded people.

County Judges and Commissioners agreed to this play -- pay for about $17,000,000 of the present $18,000,000 cost of maintaining rural roads out of the $50,000,00 now going to FM road construction. They also agreed to build a total of 50,000 miles of FM roads, instead of the 35,000 miles now set as unofficial goal. Present milage--34,000.

COURT OPENS

Appellate courts opened their fall terms, handing down dozens of decisions.

Key case of great importance was decision in suit of Key Western Insurance Co. of Abilene against the Board of Insurance, from both insurance and legal points of view.

Here the Supreme Court upheld new requirement that appeals from decisions of the Board of Insurance on approvals of life insurance policies must be tried "de novo" or "anew" rather than accepting the old rule that an administrative agency is to be upheld if its decision was not arbitrary or capricious.

Of major importance also was award of $139,250 to the City of Graham for damage done its sewer treatment plant by backing up of water of water of the Brazos River Authority's Possum Kingdom Dam. Case goes back for retrial of whether Graham can collect for damage to its water plant.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Worried About The Twenty-Three People In Town Look To Him To Feed Them

Dear editar:

I know there are a lot of people worried about the possibility of an atomic war, but they make a mistake when they worry about it too much.

I mean, with all the other things to worry about, why get in a rut?

For example. I was reading some statistics about farmers last night in a copy of a newspaper somebody threw out of his car as it passed my Johnson grass farm out here earlier in the day, and according to it, the percentage of farmers to the rest of the population in the United States continues to shrink. A hundred years ago, farmers were in the majority, then the cities and towns started gaining, picking up speed especially in the last few years. In fact, farmers lost 23 percent of their numbers from 1954 to 1961, just seven years. Today, only nine percent of the country's population can be called a farmer.

But that's not the thing to worry about, it's this. The number of people in town a farmer has to feed is increasing. As the farm population goes down the city population up, the burden on the farmer gets heavier. A hundred years ago, one farmer produced enough for himself and four others. Today, he has to produce enough for himself and twenty - three others, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

That's what I'm talking about. I don't know who the twenty-three people are in Cameron I'm supposed to feed, but whoever they are, if I was them, I'd forget about the hydrogen bomb and start worrying over where my next meal is coming from.

The load is getting too big. By the time I get through feeding myself and my family and an occasional in - law that drops in invariably at meal time, there's mighty slim pickings for those twenty-three people in town waiting to be fed. I believe if I was them I'd put in a backyard garden, just to be on the safe side. I hope you're not one of the twenty - three looking to me for food. There's nothing worse for the peace and harmony of a community than an under - fed newspaperman, unless it's a hungry politician, although well - fed ones have been known to cause trouble.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Dear sir:

My daughter and family (Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brown) of Lake Jackson were in Cameron during "Hurricane Carla". As Mrs. Brown is office manager here for the United Fund and works with the Red Cross she helped cook while there.

A friend from here said there was a write - up in the paper but didn't remember if there was any pictures, altho' a photographer took a number of pictures of them cooking and also had an interview with them.

We would be very glad to get any or all papers from the 10th to the 14th if any are available. Will send money for same by return mail -- one of each if you have them.

Damage here terrible, almost unbelieveable, can hardly believe what you see.

Thanks

Mrs. H. L. Baker, Sr.

Major George Wythe Baylor
Ranger

". . the Apaches ran like a herd of deer . ."

George W. Baylor is said to be the first ardent secessionist to raise the Confederate flag in Austin, and he soldiered with distinction throughout the Civil War. However, Texans remember best his Ranger service on the western rim of the state. There, in 1879, a particularly vicious band of Apaches from Mexico, led by the notorious Victorio, was raiding and killing. Ranger Lt. Baylor was ordered to Ysleta to clean up the frontier. Accompanied by his wife and small daughter, he made the lonely six-hundred mile trek from San Antonio to Ysleta by mule and wagon. With Baylor's Rangers in action Victorio's days were numbered. His defeat and death ended the Apache terror for all time. Later, as a major, Baylor commanded a number of Ranger companies during the disturbance over fence cutting. After retiring from the Rangers in 1885, he represented El Paso County in the State Legislature, one of the many men of the Baylor family to leave their mark in Texas history.

Today in Texas so many of the good things in life are ours by right, and the industries that produce them are respected, just as we respect law and order. The brewing industry is one . . the producer of payrolls and community revenue as well as the refreshment of moderate beverages. In Texas, "Beer Belongs." Brewers, wholesalers and retailers, and the United States Brewers Association are working constantly in cooperation with today's lawmen, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions.

Use Of Fireproof Materials Urged

COLLEGE STATION — Today too many Texas farm families are living in houses that were built to burn, says the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. The blame can be placed on some of the modern building materials that look smart but burn fast, such as certain fiberboards, accoustical ceiling material and highly combustible plastic tiles. Also at fault are houses with hollow walls or false ceilings that are inadequately firestopped, thus presenting an area through which a flash fire can race unimpeded, creating its own draft.

What can be done about this situation? The Council says anyone building or remodeling should insist on fireproof materials. "Your best bet is still an Underwriters' Laboratory label," says the Council.

An interior finish of wallboard made of gypsum, cement, asbestos or plaster offers considerable resistance to fire and will not contribute to flame spread. For the roof, asphalt shingles, slate, asbestos or metal make a good fire-resistant covering. It is also wise to use fire retarding paint when you redecorate.

Wood floors under stoves and heaters should be protected by metal, brickwork, concrete or ventilated air space, the Council continues. Also desirable are impregnated - wood fire doors in critical locations such as basement stairs, house entrances and the bedrooms. These doors will withstand temperatures of 1,800 degrees for 90 minutes, yet they retain the esthetic qualities of wood.

At least one window in each bedroom should have a low sill. High, small windows are often too small for escape, and no window is adequate unless the smallest dimension is at least 18 inches.

"Also remember that no building is any more fireproof than its contents," the Council says. "Furnishings, trim and decorations can be the real fire threat in the home."

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Home builders or those purchasing homes are reminded by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council that this is Fire Prevention Week. Home builders should insist that only fireproof materials be used for building or repairing. Many of the modern materials look good but may be fast burners, they warn.

Yields Increase, Production Cost Lower On Farms

"Cotton yields can be increased on many low-producing Blackland farms without increasing the cost of production,' said County Agent J. D. Moore.

As an example, he cited results obtained by the Texas Research Foundation at Renner. There, research scientist found that a simple 3-year rotation increased cotton yields an average of 46 pounds of lint per acre each of the past 13 years. "And this is one of the few practices that does not cost the farmer a cent to use," he pointed out.

Agronomist Benny J. Simpson is in charge of cropping systems at the Foundation. Simpson's favorite rotation includes small grain, grain sorghum and cotton. These include 3 cash crops as well as 2 high residue producing crops, he explained.

"Simpson also found that, on continuous cotton, the use of fertilizer alone boosted yields by 50 pounds of line per acre," Moore said. "Of course, this practice added to production costs, but the fertilizer increased net profit by $6 to $8 per acre." By using both fertilizer and a crop rotation system in other test plots, Simpson maintained lint production of 345 pounds per acre .... almost twice the Blackland average.

Moore invited Milam County cotton growers to drop by his office and talk over production problems. He will be glad to help you plan a sound rotation system to fit your particular needs and explain how to get a chemical analysis of your soil.

COTTONSEED REVIEW

SOUTHWESTERN AREA

Cotton harvesting made generally good progress most of the past week. Producers were fast cleaning the fields in central, North and East Texas with strippers operated over the weekend. Gins were crowded to capacity. In many localities of these areas gins estimated they had 30 to 200 bales yet to gin. Harvest was picking up momentum in West Texas and Oklahoma. Last Saturday a cool front moved into the panhandle areas, setting off scattered showers in Lubbock and Oklahoma territories. General rains fell in North Texas extending below Austin. Temperatures Monday morning were as low as 47 degrees in Dallas with a light frost and freeze in isolated parts of the Lubbock area.

The movement of cottonseed to crushing mills was increasing as harvest gained momentum. The quality of cottonseed received at crushing mills averaged about the basis grade 100 with a small improvement noted in Texas. Grades in Texas were ranging from a high of 114.5 in Pecos and Reeves Counties of District 6 where excellent harvesting conditions continued to prevail to a low of 89.0 in Jones County of District 2. There was a low of 76.5 in Bailey County of District 1 but this was not representative of the county. In Oklahoma grades were about unchanged from the previous week, ranging from 108.0 in Harmon and Jackson Counties of District 7 to 87.5 Muskogee County of District 6. The rough methods of harvesting contributed to cause numerous small discounts for excess foreign matter, particularly in counties where harvest was well advanced. Recent showers and rains caused quite a few discounts for excess moisture. A scattering few discounts for excess free fatty acids were noticed in counties of District 9 of Texas which was hit hard by the recent hurricane and harvest and ginning was in cleanup stage. The percentage of oil ranged from 15.0 to 20.4. Linter yields were ranging from 8.3 to 14.3

Wagon lot prices of cottonseed paid to producers were slightly lower this week. In Texas prevailing prices were around $51.70 per ton, compared with $52.60 per ton last week, ranging from $60.00 per ton in El Paso County of District 6 to $50.00 per ton in numerous counties in all districts. In Oklahoma prices were averaging about 40 cents per ton lower than last week's price of $50.20 per ton, ranging from $46.00 per ton in Muskogee County of District 6, to $52.00 per ton in Jefferson County of District 8. According to reprts many oil mills were buying on an as is basis with prices fluctuating widely according to localities. Generally oil mill prices of cottonseed (as is and basis grade 100) averaged around $55.00 per ton with some mill prices quoted as high as $60.00 per ton. The price of cottonseed meal held steady at $62.50 per ton, wholesale, baglot, truck lots in the Dallas area. Prices in other markets were Abilene $61.00, Corpus Christi, $62.00, Lubbock $59.00, Memphis $62.00, Waco $61.00, Altus $64.00 and Oklahoma City $67.00 per ton.

Cottonseed Oil Sales Policy. Details of a cottonseed oil sales policy were announced on September 27 by the Department of Agriculture. Any cottonseed oil which may be acquired by the CCC under the 1961 Cottonseed Price Support Program will not be sold in commercial channels at less than the higher of (1) the market prices for similar cottonseed oils at the time and place of sales, or (2) 105 percent of the average investment cost to CCC, calculated monthly, for all cottonseed oil delivered under the program up to that time. This policy will remain in effect until September 30, 1962. Department officials explained that on the basis of the prospective supply -- demand situation for cottonseed products there should be little or no need for CCC to purchase cottonseed oil under the support program this year; however, the support program has been announced and is available if needed to stabilize the market at not less than the support level.

1962 WATERMELONS

It is not too early to begin planning for the 1962 watermelon crop. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has recently made available a publication on growing watermelons and copies are free for the asking from your local county agent's office.

During the past pear, 96 percent of the elgibiles in Texas were members of the organization. Elmo V. Cook, veteran Travis county agricultural agent, is a member of the National Association's Board of Directors, representing part of the Southern Region.

Extension Names Specialist In Resource Field

COLLEGE STATION — Garland R. Marshall on October 1 became resource development specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. According to the announcement released by Director John E. Hutchison, Marshall will headquarter at College Station and his work will be on a statewide basis.

Marshall's major responsibility, Hutchison said, will be to train county extension agents in the development of educational programs aimed at developing the total resources of a county or area.

The new specialist is a native of Scurry county; a graduate of Henderson High School and Texas A & M College with a B. S. degree in agricultural economics. He has had extensive experience in farming and ranching and prior to his first extension appointment in 1956 as assistant county agricultural agent in Cherokee county served as a livestock supervisor for the Texas Prison System. After brief services as assistant county agent his title was changed to agent in ruarl development for Cherokee county. In April 1958, he retained the same title but was given the responsibility for rural development work in Extension District 9.

On February 1, 1960, he was given leave of absence to become executive secretary for rural development in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. His services were requested as a result in rural development work in East Texas. He returned to Texas in June 1960 and entered Texas A & M College to do graduate work.

Purification Process For Milk Now Developed

COLLEGE STATION — Agricultural researchers have developed a milk purification process they hope they will never have to use. This process would be used to remove the strontium 90 that would contaminate milk following a nuclear attack. The process was worked out jointly by the Agricultural Research Service, Atomic Energy Commission and U. S. Public Health Service. It is now being tested on a pilot - plant basis at USDA's Beltsville Research Center, reports A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

The pilot plant - studies are based on laboratory studies, which showed that ion - exchange resins are effective in removing radioactive strontium from milk containing an increased amount of acid. In these basic studies, scientists charged a resin with calcium, sodium, potassium and magnesium the major metals in milk.

Milk which had been expiermentally contaimnated with readioactive strontium was passed through columns containing this resin. This ion exchange occurs because the resin attracts strontium more strongly than it attracts other metals, explains Meekma.

Because only about 60per cent of strontium in milk occurs in free form, citric acid was added to the milk to ionize the rest of the radioactive element.This enabled the resin to attract and remove 98 percent of the strontium from the milk. After the strontium is removed, the milk is treated with dilute potassium hudroxide to neutralize the acid, then pastuerized and homogenized.
